Undergraduate liberal arts coursework is required for admission to professional schools in fields such as engineering, pharmacy, law, and medicine. Students on the Morris campus have the opportunity to complete a pattern of liberal arts courses that prepares them to apply for admission at the bachelor's degree level to various professional schools at the University of Minnesota and elsewhere.

UMM advisers are available to work with students at the beginning of the first year and on a regular basis thereafter to plan a schedule adapted to the student's academic interests. The Academic Advising Office provides detailed guides to preparatory coursework at UMM that is recommended by administrators at University of Minnesota professional schools. In addition, professional school catalogs, the best source of information about requirements, are available in the Registrar's Office.

It is recommended that students preparing for transfer into professional programs at the bachelor's degree level complete the UMM degree requirements. Many students change their educational objectives during the course of study in preparation for a professional school, in which case the credits earned can be applied toward UMM graduation requirements. Admission to professional programs is highly competitive and applicants may be competing against others who have already earned bachelor's degrees or have at least three years of preparation before they apply. Simply completing the preparation requirements does not guarantee admission.

Students are urged to consult the catalog of the professional school they plan to attend for information about the admission requirements and application deadlines and procedures. Most professional schools require a minimum GPA, a satisfactory score on a standardized aptitude test, and letters of recommendation.

UMM offers preparatory coursework, either as the full program of the bachelor of arts degree or as preliminary courses, for the following professional schools of the University of Minnesota:

- Dentistry
- Engineering
- Law
- Medicine
- Pharmacy
- Physical Therapy
- Veterinary Medicine

Dentistry

Students planning to earn the doctor of dental surgery degree at the School of Dentistry on the Twin Cities campus must complete a minimum of 87 semester credits in a science-based liberal arts curriculum emphasizing biology, chemistry, mathematics, and physics for admission to the professional program. The majority of students entering the program have completed four or more years of college and a bachelor's degree. The minimum GPA required for admission is 2.50, but acceptance is on a competitive basis.

Students seeking admission to the School of Dentistry must apply through the American Association of Dental Schools Application Service (applications for the AADSAS are available in Student Counseling). The application deadline is January 1. Scores from the Dental Admission Test (DAT) are required as part of the application. The DAT is prepared by the American Dental Association and is administered on computer. DAT scores must be submitted to the School of Dentistry by December 1 of the academic year preceding the fall term in which enrollment is sought.

Engineering

The Institute of Technology on the Twin Cities campus offers the following programs: aerospace engineering, biosystems and agricultural engineering, chemical engineering, civil engineering, computer engineering, electrical engineering, geological engineering, materials science and engineering, and mechanical engineering. Each of these programs may have both common and specific requirements.

The freshman and sophomore years on the Morris campus prepare students for advanced courses in engineering. In addition to the required courses in composition, chemistry, mathematics, physics, and computer science, students are also encouraged to fulfill some of the general education requirements in the humanities and social sciences and to select courses that will enable them to graduate from UMM should they later choose to do so. It is very important that students work closely with their adviser and consult the Undergraduate Catalog of the Twin Cities campus for specific program requirements and updates. The catalog is available online at <www.catalog.umn.edu> or in Academic Advising.

Law

A bachelor's degree is required for admission to law school, but no specific preparatory program is prescribed. Students are advised to plan a bachelor's program that provides a broad background in the humanities, mathematics, sciences, and social sciences. Students should select an academic major based on their special area of interest and abilities to ensure a depth of knowledge in one field. Students are encouraged to take courses that require independent thought and writing, including work in other languages, and to develop, through coursework or activities, their skills in oral and written expression.

The University of Minnesota Law School in Minneapolis makes the following statement about its admission policy: "Admission is limited to applicants who show reasonable prospects for success in law study and in the profession. A strong scholastic record is a significant indicator of potential success in law school and, when combined with scores from the Law School Admission Test (LSAT), is the most reliable predictor of likely achievement."

The University of Minnesota Law School participates in the Law School Data Assembly Service (LSDAS), which provides a summary of the academic work of applicants, copies of their college transcripts, and their LSAT scores. Applicants are required to submit the LSAT/LSDAS registration form and to have their college transcripts sent directly to the service. It is preferred that applicants register with the LSDAS and take the LSAT at least six weeks before the March 1 application deadline. Normally applicants take the LSAT in December of their senior year in college. The LSAT/LSDAS Information Bulletin and application are available in Student Counseling.

Medicine

Students planning to enter a school of medicine must complete a bachelor's degree with a well-balanced liberal arts program before admission. Required premedical courses in the bachelor's degree program include composition, biology, chemistry, mathematics, and physics. The three Minnesota medical schools are the University of Minnesota Medical School in Minneapolis, the School of Medicine at the University of Minnesota, Duluth, and the Mayo Medical School in Rochester. Requirements of the various medical schools vary and frequently change; therefore, students should contact each individual school they are interested in. First-year UMM premedical students should contact the UMM premedical coordinator and work closely with their faculty adviser.

All three Minnesota medical schools participate in the American College Application Service (AMCAS). The AMCAS application should be filed between June 1 and November 15 of the preceding year for entry to medical school the following fall. Premedical students should begin application procedures for medical school during their junior year.

Students using AMCAS are required to take the Medical College Admission Test (MCAT). This test is also required or strongly recommended by most medical schools in the United States. The MCAT is administered at UMM in the spring and fall of each year. It is recommended that students take the MCAT in the spring of their junior year. Applications for AMCAS and the Medical School Admission Test Bulletin of Information, which includes MCAT test dates and applications, are available at Student Counseling.

Pharmacy

Students planning to apply to the University of Minnesota College of Pharmacy must complete specified general education coursework, including composition, biology, chemistry, mathematics, physics, economics, psychology, and sociology to be eligible for admission. The admission process is selective. The criteria used to evaluate and select applicants for admission include the student's educational background and GPA, oral and written communication skills, and letters of recommendation.

Applications should be filed between October 1 and February 1 of the academic year preceding the fall term in which enrollment is sought. Early application is recommended. For more information, consult the College of Pharmacy Catalog available online at www.catalogs.umn.edu or in Academic Advising.

Physical Therapy

Students must complete a bachelor's degree to be eligible for admission to the graduate physical therapy program at the University of Minnesota, Twin Cities. Admission is very competitive. Undergraduate coursework should include two biology courses with labs; elementary anatomy; human physiology; two terms of inorganic chemistry with labs; two terms of introductory physics; one general psychology course; one abnormal psychology course; one course in medical terminology; statistics to include descriptive statistics, regression analysis, and analysis of variance; one computer applications course that presents information on word processing, spread sheet, and database management programs; and calculus. All courses, with the exception of medical terminology, should be taken for a letter grade. In addition, students are advised to pursue a broad-based liberal education, including coursework comparable to the University of Minnesota, Twin Cities liberal education requirements. For more information, see www.physther.med.umn.edu/.

submitting the VMCAS application is October 1. For more information or application materials, contact the Office of Student Affairs and Admissions, College of Veterinary Medicine, University of Minnesota, 460 Veterinary Teaching Hospital, 1365 Gortner Avenue, St. Paul, MN 55108; 612/624-4747.

Veterinary Medicine

Enrollment in the professional doctor of veterinary medicine program is limited. A total of 76 students is admitted each fall semester. First priority is given to Minnesota residents and to students from states and provinces where reciprocity applies to the veterinary program (North Dakota, South Dakota, and Manitoba, Canada).

To qualify for admission to the College of Veterinary Medicine, students must complete required coursework in the biological and physical sciences and general education at UMM. Most students complete their bachelor's degree before entering veterinary school but may seek admission during the academic year in which their pre-veterinary requirements are complete.

Required courses include composition, biology, chemistry, mathematics, physics, and general education requirements. Consultation with a UMM adviser is essential for proper course planning.

The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is required for admission. Students normally take the GRE fall of the year that they are submitting their application to veterinary school. Three letters of evaluation from people who know the student well are also required. The University of Minnesota is a part of the national application process through the Veterinary Medical College Application Service (VMCAS). VMCAS applications are available from the College of Veterinary Medicine beginning in July of each year. Beginning with fall 1999, the deadline for
